

Bicycling

March 2010

Gear: Take It With You

Featuring: The FlapJack Pack

Circulation: 438,675

Readership: 1,316,025

TAKE IT WITH YOU

THESE PACKS WILL HAVE YOU CARRYING THE MODERN ACCOUTREMENTS OF LIFE IN STYLE AND COMFORT

Osprey Flap Jack

Osprey has been making backpacks since way back in 1974. There's nothing revolutionary about the water-resistant Flap Jack—it's just a well-executed pack that's comfortable and won't clash with your J. Crew ensemble—but simple and comfortable done right is arguably all you need in a great commuter bag. It has various stash and organizer pockets, but it's not obsessively subdivided; the pack is light and the materials are supple, so it feels broken-in from the start. Stability, perhaps no surprise, is absolutely top-notch.—Matt Phillips

$89

BUY IT IF	You want an everyday backpack
FORGET IT IF	You need waterproofing
SIZE	1,500 cubic inches
FEATURES	Laptop sleeve; light loop; reflectivity; key clip; sternum strap
COLORS	Black, khaki and pepper
OPTIONS	Flap Jill, 1,250 cubic inches
INFO	ospreypacks.com

