

Mountain Gazette

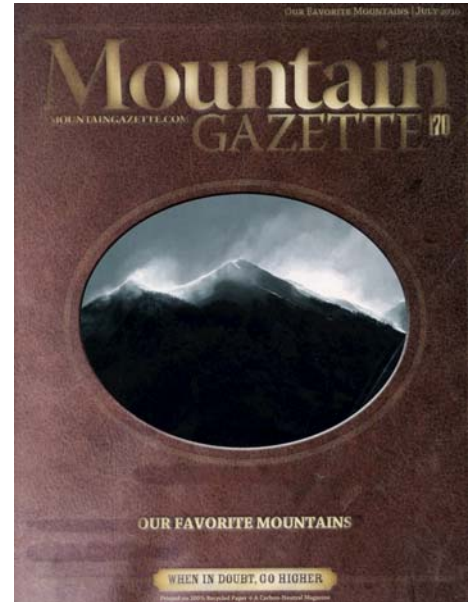

July 2010

Gear Up

Featuring: The Vector 28

Circulation: 45,000

Readership: 108,000

OSPREY VECTOR 28

So we all know that the pack you wear on your back is utterly crucial to your comfort and happiness on long trips. The same goes for the luggage you cart around from airport to taxi to camel to yurt and back again. Osprey thought of all that when they created the Vector 28. Their "Lightweight Wheeled Travel" idea is just that: packs that are airy and smart, but versatile and durable enough to handle your junk. Osprey knows adventure travelers; they even put a separate dirty-clothes compartment on the back panel of the bag for your super-funky duds. It's compartmentalized with enough zippers and pockets to keep type-A personalities happy, plus it boasts compression straps to keep everything in its place. Lockable zippers, a special liquids pouch, a high-clearance design, and a retractable handle round out

