OUTDOOR RETAILER PREVIEW: ADVENTURE READY LUGGAGE

By Gear Shed

Is your old Samsonite looking a little dogeared? Are you ready to replace your black roller board with something that's easier to identify on the luggage carousel? We'll be checking out new luggage this week at the Outdoor Retailer show. Here's a preview of a few of the pieces we're most excited to see.

Osprey Ozone Series: If you're schlepping stuff around, it's hard to beat Osprey. We've been big fans of the company's technical packs and travel luggage for years. If you're looking to upgrade your current, old, and heavy roller, you might want to hold out for Osprey's new Ozone series of luggage. Osprey says that the new bags, available in sizes suitable for carry-on or checking, are the lightest rolling luggage on the market. And Osprey didn't sacrifice features to keep the weight down—Ozone bags have plenty of organizer pockets inside and out. Available fall 2012, $199-$249, ospreypacks.com
